

Media fun and a few other bits

(someone somewhere may find of interest!)

Its 175 years since WHF Talbot 'invented' photography!
As a tribute, here are a few snaps celebrating how far photography has come in that time!

Positive Negative

Lattice Window
(taken with a beer can camera)

Visit Lacock Abbey for the full experience!

Selfie 1

Selfie 2

Pinhole fun – filming with Dick and Dom

(Absolute genius with Dick and Dom)

Wheeling 'binhole' camera through Metro offices

Trafalgar Square with Jahmene Laxaltsas

Me with my 'binhole' camera

Jahmene negative

Jahmene positive

'The Brothers Bloom'

"The Taj Mahal taken by a fat tourist with Diarrhoea and a point and shoot camera can be the flattest, dullest. "Here's us at the Taj Mahal, Oh lovely, lets go stick our thumbs up our arses" picture, but you can look at the most menial every day thing, and depending upon how your pinhole eats the light, its warped and peculiar and imperfect. Its not reproduction, its storytelling."

Wonderous film featuring Rachel Weisz (as a pinhole photographer)
Adrien Brody, Mark Ruffalo and Rinko Kukuchi (and my snaps).
(Being honest, it unfairly went 'straight to radio' but I liked it!)
Rian's new film is Lodge, also fab!

".....and the oscar for the best pinhole photography consultant goes to....."